

We've passed our exams thanks to you!

Thanks to your fantastic support, from the 102 girls who either did their year end exams or their final school exams, 97 girls passed which is an incredible 95% score.

This includes 5 girls who successfully passed their baccalaureate in 2013, the first group of EFA students who have completed their 6 year education in Asni. Most of them are the first girls in their villages to do so.

Your generous financial support has enabled us to continue to run the fantastic 'homes from home' which provide the perfect environment for these bright, young girls to grow in confidence and learn together.

Each staff member who cares for them, each meal they eat, each book they open and computer they use all of this has led to their exams success and brought them closer to a brighter future. All of this would not have been possible without you.

In the News!

News of the girls' success has traveled far and wide! At the end of last month, the British Ambassador in Rabat held a reception to celebrate with the girls who passed their baccalaureate, saying:

“...with your education, you can help your families, your communities and your country.
You have the gifts you need to change the world for the better.”

We would like to thank the British Ambassador, all of our supporters and especially the girls who have made us all so proud! We look forward to providing for many more girls to become empowered through a full education so they can participate with all their gift and talents in the world.

The provision of a safe and supportive “home away from home” means that the girls have the opportunity to continue their education. This simple solution does not cost a great deal of money but opens up a whole new world of opportunity to young women.”

Mouna's Story

"Education for All is where my dreams and ambitions began."

Mouna, is 17 years old and the first girl in her village to ever achieve the baccalaureate. She has ambitions to continue her education and is grateful for the opportunity that the EFA school houses has brought her, thanks to your generous support.

Mouna speaks up for girls' education:

You can help more girls like Mouna by getting involved in fundraising for Education for All, in your schools or workplaces. <http://www.efamorocco.org/donate/index.html>

Our next goal: Two more houses by 2015!

All in all, it has been a busy and successful year for these girls and we have plans to increase the accessibility of girls from the remote villages to access a vital education. For more information about how you can support us to open our next 2 houses and maintain the ones that have supported girls like Mouna, please go to our website: <http://www.efamorocco.org/get-involved/>

The Challenge is on! Dare to Care:

Andy Phillips raised over a £1000 just by shaving his head- this will support a girl through a full education for a whole year! How will you dare to care today?

It's easy to take part!

1. Pick a dare
2. Tell your friends
3. Do it!
4. Donate
